

Tech Trek

Tech Trek is a yearly, week long summer camp sponsored by AAUW, held on a university campus. The program has been held since 1998. Amador County girls usually attend the campus at Mills College in Oakland.

It is a math/science camp designed to develop interest, excitement and self confidence in young women entering eighth grade in the fall. Daily hands-on classes and field trips are designed to explore a variety of math/science/computer related fields of study in a nurturing environment, taught by women teaching and professionally employed in related fields.

Local science teachers are encouraged to nominate interested girls. Those girls are encouraged to enter their written letter of interest and the application. The applicants are then screened and a limited number of girls are interviewed by an AAUW Amador selection committee.

AAUW Amador supports this program with scholarships, and requests a $100 donation from parents; however no selected girl will be turned away from the program for cost reasons. AAUW Amador raises money for this program through the annual Home Tour.

For additional information, or if you wish to donate to this program specifically, please contact scholarships@auwamador.org.